Description

In particular it fails late, for reasons that are hard to diagnose.

It would probably fail earlier, and be easier to diagnose, if `.../src/tools/setup-virtualenv.sh` used ``set -e``

Found while trying to build on rhel9-beta which currently does not have python3-virtualenv-xx available, e.g. in its Code Ready Builder repo or the BaseOS repo.

(N.B. python3-virtualenv-xx and its dependencies are built in brew for rhel9, but at the time of this writing aren't in any package repos for rhel9)
